SurviveAZ

The website will serve as a one-stop resource for Arizona outdoor enthusiasts to find local, reliable information such as environmental conditions, activity locations and/or closures and restrictions, survival advice and insights, and gear suggestions.

Site features will include domain name with logo, navigation bar, search bar, media throughout (images and videos), weather alerts with ticker/widget, reference maps/images, gear recommendations (with printable checklist), internal links, external resources, FAQ's, about us, subscriber opt-in, and a contact form.

The navigation structure of this website is intended to be straight forward to engage user interaction, improve reliability in the site content, and avoid any confusion and/or frustration in the process. The main site navigation will include breadcrumbs with the following site links: Home, Arizona, Survival, Gear, and Contact.
